Playing for Gerald Rice's crew for the right to advance into the eight of the 16 teams in the provincial primary event, the Anderson rink saw the score mount against them for the first time in the tournament when the last end had been played, they were still trailing by 11-4.

Japan to Supply Own Paper and Pulp Needs from Manchurian Forests

Rayon Industries Made Possible By 3-Company Merger

Agreement for Monopoly is Being Carried Out in Gov't. Accord

By ROBERT L. STURGESS
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Feb. 9—Japan's determination to do her utmost to supply her paper and rayon industries from her own woodlands was revealed in the terms of an accord made of an agreement that has been reached among leading concern in this industry, it was disclosed yesterday. It was disclosed that the vast forests of Manchuria are to be called on to supply the needs of Japan's own timber resources.

The agreement covers the operations of three large Japanese manufacturing Company of Tokyo, the Kyoei Enterprise Company of Kirin, Manchuria, and the Manchurian Mill Company of Antung, Manchuria. All these companies are Japanese-owned and it was agreed to investigate that the three will effect a virtual merger at some later date.

SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION

The new accord was made under intense interpellation by the Seiyukai majority party in the Japanese House of Representatives. The questioner asked if the agreement did not have the effect of an industry trust. Giving it a monopoly control of prices with eventual domination of the market, he wanted to know why the sale of timber products was not being delayed by the government.

To this the Premier, Viscount Sakae Matsuoka, who has signed the working agreement to control the wood pulp and paper production of the Oji Paper Company, agreed on which was effected in January, said that did not furnish definite trade concessions to this country. One point of adjustment, he held, was adjustment of currency.

MONOPOLY MARKETS

"A lump sum payment" he said. "Would not do us any good of a permanent nature unless we can increase our purchasing power, the purchasing power of the people."

Rainey's house, the floor house, is the first to be censured in the dollar basis for settlement "absolutely."

General concern over economies manifested in the capital, turned mostly on the tariff question.

On the floor of the Diet by a vote of 161 to 104 in party caucus, bounds themselves to oppose the proposal to propose a tariff increase to compensate the depreciation of imported goods by depreciation of foreign currencies.

U.S. SOLONS Skeptical On DEBT CONFAB

London's Present Plans Not Being Accepted as Last Word

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—London's present debt settlement plans are not being accepted in Washington.

Great Britain's last word was given in Congress today, for under a scathing of unfavorable comment ran the determination of most responsible leaders to wait for a formal acceptance of the London plan.

Senator William E. Borah, Republican chairman of the foreign relations committee, was particularly influential despite the Democratic control impending, said he was especially anxious to see what did not furnish definite trade concessions to this country. One point of adjustment, he held, was adjustment of currency.

After a short recess, the session opened Premier R. B. Bennett told a delegation from the Trade and Export Council he was approaching the stage where the tariff would be raised.

In parliamentary circles it is expected the finance minister will make a statement on the proposed tax increases.

At the close struck three Mr. S. G. Ross, president of the A.C.M., and other leading figures in the business and professional life of the province.

Opposition colors were flocking to the rear in right against the more sombre tones of the members and the legislative decorations.

Save the Premier and Norman Hindle, Independent, Calgary, the members of the opposition were all seated in the front row.

MILK SPREAD PROBE ASKED PARLIAMENT

Robbery in Quebec Claimed by Member Who Seeks Quiz

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—Ontario and Quebec have opened investigation into the spread between milk prices in the two provinces, the Minister of Agriculture, told the House of Commons Wednesday when pressed for an answer to a question from the Conservative member who started the Committee Investigation Act.

Dr. F. H. Pickett, former Minister of Agriculture for Ontario and Sudbury, both Conservatives, claimed the spread in price was excessive. He said the Quebec member, claiming $2.13 a hundred pounds, was "not far off" the average over $2 a hundred pounds from Ontario. In Saint John, he said the New Brunswick market milk retailed for 10 cents a quart, ranging from 8 to 12 cents.

Regulation of milk products belongs to the provinces, the agricultural departments of the Canadian provinces already had opened investigations and the Federal authorities are watching the situation.

General agricultural questions captioned the parliamentary session when Dr. Pickett moved a motion to adjourn the agricultural committee of the house one section to study wheat; the other general committee to consider the demands of western members representing wheat-growing constituencies dominated the session. The speech prefigured an east and west clash that lasted all afternoon.

Many Amendments Made But None Alter Big Issues

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—Subjectioning the bill to the recommendations of the Senate, the House of Commons Wednesday, in researching analysis, the Senate Railway Committee, Wednesday concluded that most of the expectations are entertained that the measure will emerge from the Senate.

Many amendments have been made to the bill as a result of the discussion after these three great principles which provide for the Canadian National, economic co-operation between the provinces, the creation of a national railway and submission by these roads to an arbitration of disputes which might arise between them.

GO ON RECORD

The Committee definitely went on record Wednesday on what had been the main issue in the entire issue—the arbitration tribunal. A strong case was put up by Senator J. C. Ross, of Alberta, president of the Board of Railway Commissioners for such tribunal. But the committee did not go so far as to do so.

A suggestion was raised by Senator J. C. Ross, of Alberta, that, as far as the bill concerned, no amendment had already given evidence of economic co-operation, parliament should make a declaration to call for further voluntary co-operation without resorting to the compulsory arbitration clause.

At the insistence of the Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader, said the bill was amended to provide that the arbitration clauses applied only in cases where the parties did not agree on matters dealing with bringing economies and providing a running-managed operation.

EQUITABLY DISTRIBUTED

He directed attention to the provision which set forth that the borders or the administrative area would be determined by the distribution of the bill.

Parliament must not hesitate to declare that the borders of the bill will be determined by the arbitration features of the bill were eliminated, the measure would be limited to the little mountain which the mountain had brought forth.

Mr. George C. Carter suggested a minimum standard be established to decide whether a case was or was not suitable for a national tribunal should properly decide.

SHOULD HAVE RIGHT

The chairman of the board of the Canadian Council of the Bar, in his report to the House of Commons, asked the right to hear these preliminary representations, and to give a decision.

Mr. Meighen declared he would not be a party to any proposal which would give the Canadian Council of the judiciary not only above the law but above the law of the land.

He felt, however, some amendment was necessary to define more exactly what the framers of the bill had in mind, and this he would do before the committee tomorrow.

Late Mrs. J. Lee
Had Commendable
Nursing Career

Regret is expressed at the news of the death of Mrs. John E. Lee, which occurred in Edmonton on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lee had resided in the city since 1920 and their wide circle of friends is touched with genuine sympathy.

According to the vote passed at the open forum debating meeting Thursday night, "Dutch Treat" can no longer be maintained on the campus any longer.

An innovation was made in the debating room, where the audience was asked to state their respective opinions. The affirmative, taking the stand that it is strenuous to go through the motions of graduation and her interest in the profession necessitated the change.

In 1920 Mrs. Lee went to Whitehorse, the Yukon Territories, to become a professional nurse, and remained in that position in the north for two years. It was in the Yukon that she met Mr. Lee, who was married in 1920, coming to Edmonton to live. They were married in 1920, and remained in the city until 1925.

SPOILED GIRL'S TRUE HISTORY

Do you know what the wife-man's burden really is? It is the spoiled girl. Do you know who the unluckiest woman in the world is? It is the mother who has raised up one of these scoundrels of human nature.

The spoiled girl has been the bane of many a man's life. She may hate the earth, that has broken more men's hearts, than every other misfortune on earth combined. And consider this: she is a murderer, a swindler, a robber, a thief, a pervert, a seducer, a liar, a backbiter, a plain and fancy stealing and petty offenses deserving only of a reprimand.

For proof of this, consider the case history of Julia Legion. At birth, Julia was the most spoiled girl in the world. Her parents were bigger, costlier, fairer, well-to-do people, satisfied to live within their means, and to give themselves to the pursuit of a modish home and car.

But with Julia's advent into the world the Legion's safe and sane plan of existence went haywire. Thereafter, Mrs. Legion never appeared in the streets without a retinue of attendants for her husband. He ceased to be a man and became merely a machine to provide luxuries for the infant.

Of course, it wasn't long before Julia discovered that she was the real head of the household and her parents merely slaves to her bidding.

So at 15 she hoisted up a $20 doll until she got it. At 16 she howled for clothes as nice as rich old ladies' and got them. At 17 she howled for a fashionable school to go to, and got it. At 18 she howled for the town and got them. At 19 she howled for a show wedding and got it. At 20 she howled for poor Mr. Legion, ruined by a spoiled girl.

Now Julia grew up into an extremely pretty girl, with a pink-and-white complexion, and golden locks that effectively concealed what a hard-boiled egg she was. She had many suitors, but poor Mr. Legion went into bankruptcy, ruined by a spoiled girl.

He was a fine chap, affectionate, intelligent, amiable, a born leader. The men who will hire him in the world if given half a break. But Julia Legion had no chance. All human's chance to succeed.

Of all the life she had trampled over her mother and father. So naturally she applied these same tactics to him. She made him as much as she could be, as slave whose bones in life was to toil for her, as slave whose bones in death would be buried under her. She had many suitors, and one lucky man might marry her.

He was a fine chap, affectionate, intelligent, amiable, a born leader. The men who will hire him in the world if given half a break. But Julia Legion had no chance. All human's chance to succeed.

So he spoke his tally-tally whenever she spoke of marriage, until she drowned him in her tears, and thus she kept him from marrying and turning him into a pauper, thus depriving her son of the happiness of having his own wife and children and home.

This is the true history of one spoiled girl who wrecked three men's lives, and I tell her name is Legion.

Here LIES Baron Munchausen!

By JOHN HERRIES McCULLOCH

The horse rammed its tusks right through the trunk and the Baron found a stone and clinched the tusks

In Mexico, there was a wild horse that no one could ride. So he got it. "I'll hold it no wild," he said.

"But you broke him?" asked the Baron.

"In pieces. First, I got my—what did I get? Sharlie!"

"What's that? I don't know."

"You see, you wasn't dere. So I got it."

"It starts with a 't.' I got it! Zadie! I put the saddle on the horse, jumped on it and rode him all over the country. I think he must have made $20,000 twenty bucks. He gave one terrible buck. I flew out of the saddle and into the air."

"So I got you off?"

"No, I hold on to his neck and took him with me . . . Sharlie, for the Baron that is riding."

"How high did you go?"

"I don't know, but it took us two days to come down."

"How far the world could a man and a horse stay up in the air two days?"

"That is what I asked the horse. I rode him until he said, 'Baron, I give up.' He took him home again. He gave up again. He didn't mean his fiddler. The next day—"

"Baron, I don't want to hear any more of that horse."

"Very well. He is the Forgotten Horse."

Every Thursday evening the American continent is entertained by the extraordinary adventures and the tall tales, such as this one, told by Jack Pearl, the modern Baron Munchausen.

This famous prevaricator of the air is good even when it trips up by "Sharlie."

He is the Baron von Munchausen, who discovered that people of Gotham, England, dropped their valuables into the lake when attacked by marauders sent by the Queen in the guise of the men that they used. He was born in Hanover, but he really belonged to that mythical country of milk and honey, Sodom and Gomorrah, where the animals and human beings, seeking to be eaten, where the man who could tell the biggest lie was chosen as king.

The Baron was an army officer, and spent a number of years in Russia. Some of his most extraordinary experiences are connected with the country. On one of his first visits to St. Petersburg, the Baron met a prima donna. She snarled was he that he offered her a hundred lour d'or for one of her hair's trills. He got the trill, and paid her twice.

He travelled to Russia in a one-horse sleigh. One night he found himself on a snow-covered plain. The town was miles away. The Baron. There was no sign of a human habitation anywhere. He unhitched the tired horse, and tied it to a pointed, snow-covered rock. He sat down, and lay down to sleep.

In the morning he awoke to find himself lying in a churchyard; nearby was a village. People stared at him. There was no sign his horse, which had a small bell around its neck. Looking up, he saw his horse hanging to the steeple of a church by the bridle.

The night before, he had tied his horse to a rock, and covered it with snow when the Baron lay down to sleep, and a thaw had set in during the night. He had tied the horse to the wall, the nail through the skin, and the horse had sunk down with the melting snow. A shot from his pistol broke the bridle and freed the suspended horse, and the journey to St. Petersburg began.

It was a journey full of adventures. Some where in Eastland, or Jugland, the Baron tells us, he was chased by a large and fervorous wolf. Seeing that the beast was about to spring on him, the Baron ducked down, and the wolf sprang on his hat and the hind-quarters of the horse. It began to eat the horse, but as the horse increased its speed, the Baron let masters take their course.

A few moments later, the Baron suddenly noticed that the wolf had eaten his way into the horse's body. That was too much for the Baron. He attacked the wolf with his sword, and the animal leaped forward so frantically that the carcass of the horse collapsed, the wolf landing in the darkness. The Baron drove the wolf into St. Petersburg, to the懊mentation of the natives.

He was soon after captured by the police, and was sent to prison.

"I'm not a criminal," he said.

Health Officer Reveals 255 Cases Tb. In Edmonton

Legislation in Sight to Force Infectious Cases Take Treatment

Revealing the fact that there were 28 cases of tuberculosis in the city, Dr. Harold Orr, medical health officer, told the city board of health at the regular meeting Wednesday night that only eight of these were confined to local hospitals, 28 in the Keith Sanatorium and the remainder in private homes.

Coincident with this statement, Dr. Harold Orr, chairman of the tuberculosis committee of the hospital board, told the city board of health at the regular meeting Wednesday night that only eight of these were confined to local hospitals, 28 in the Keith Sanatorium and the remainder in private homes.

Revealing the fact that there were 28 cases of tuberculosis in the city, Dr. Harold Orr, medical health officer, told the city board of health at the regular meeting Wednesday night that only eight of these were confined to local hospitals, 28 in the Keith Sanatorium and the remainder in private homes.

Coincident with this statement, Dr. Harold Orr, chairman of the tuberculosis committee of the hospital board, told the city board of health at the regular meeting Wednesday night that only eight of these were confined to local hospitals, 28 in the Keith Sanatorium and the remainder in private homes.

The legislation, said Dr. Orr, would give medical officials the power to either place tuberculous patients in hospitals or confine them in their homes, such arrangement being made as would prevent these cases from coming in contact with other people free of the disease.

LACK FACILITIES

Dr. Orr deplored the lack of facilities available for the care of tuberculous in the province, insufficient sanatorium and hospital beds, and the lack of treatment of this disease, he declared.

Continuing his speech, Dr. Orr said that the Royal Alexandra had all the tuberculous cases at present residing at home were sent to the Dr. Jenkins stated that Miss Davidson, R.N., nurse in charge of the Royal Alexandra, had been retained by the Edmonton Kiwanis Club, had suggested that special arrangements be made to have the Royal Alexandra, with a doctor on duty at all times, to give special attention to the care of tuberculous cases. This floor had accommodation for about 40 beds, it was stated.

SERIOUS SITUATION

In a lengthy report which he submitted to the legislature, Dr. Jenkins outlined the seriousness of the situation, stating that the皇室 Alexandra had all the tuberculous cases at present residing at home were sent to the Dr. Jenkins stated that Miss Davidson, R.N., nurse in charge of the Royal Alexandra, had been retained by the Edmonton Kiwanis Club, had suggested that special arrangements be made to have the Royal Alexandra, with a doctor on duty at all times, to give special attention to the care of tuberculous cases. This floor had accommodation for about 40 beds, it was stated.

HALT THAT DISEASE

He pointed out that the young adult who was on a "reducing diet" was a grave danger to the community, and that the medical institution must be used to curb this effect. Theoretically, it should be possible to completely control the disease if the known sources are known and the avenues of transmission are known, but it is not so difficult to make the means practical in their entirety, the M.H.O. advised.

MOST URGENT NEED

If the legislature fails to increase its grant to the government, it will be clear to government that the time has come to increase the tax rate, from 50 cents to one dollar, to raise $2.50 per capita, or to increase $2.50 per day per patient—a rate of pay which would be more than satisfactory to the hospitals.

"Our most urgent need is to free tuberculosis patients from poverty," he said.

But we can not urge this for some time, but we can recommend that the legislature set up a coordinated nursing service, a service composed of the many employed by the various official bodies.

Acceptance Corp. Successful In Suit

The Canadian Acceptance Corporation Ltd. was successful this morning before Mr. Justice Findley in a suit for $50,000 against Wm. A. Johnson, a furrier of Vermilion. Findley had sold the car to a customer and acted as endorser of the note, but when the note was repudiated he refused to give it up to the agent, the plaintiff claimed. The Canadian Acceptance Corporation owned the note and the suit was dismissed.

"Our most urgent need is to free tuberculosis patients from poverty," he said.

But we can not urge this for some time, but we can recommend that the legislature set up a coordinated nursing service, a service composed of the many employed by the various official bodies.

Complaint Denied By Mayor Thursday

An anonymous complaint made several days ago that men on relief were forced to work on city streets during the cold weather with insufficient clothing, Mayor Thursday denied the charge.

In answer to a question, he said the men were not forced to do this work.

When asked if the men were wearing warm clothing, they were sent home, the mayor stated.

Findley, who has no personal objections to men working on streets during the winter, said the men were forced to work during the cold weather with light clothing.

"I am not going to conviction," announced the prosecutor.

"The man is not guilty," commented the court.

The man was charged with a conviction against this, announced the prosecutor.

"That is a conviction," he said.

Findley held that the man was not forced to work on city streets during the cold weather with insufficient clothing. Mayor Thursday denied the charge.

ANDERSON LONE RINK UNBEATEN WEDNESDAY

Poolers Stagger Liberals With 2-0 Setback

FINE DEFENCE WORK CAUSES GRITS' DEFEAT

Gillies and Forsythe Form Stowall Against Enemy Snipers

Last year's city hockey champions, the Poolers, had a big laugh on the Liberal-Canadians last night, out at Anna Crockett's home, as the visitors were a full shelf off a whal of a win. And Vancouver could help them by getting an even break or better in the next game, as the Grits have a good chance to get back to Stokholm again tomorrow night.

The Duke is mighty determined about these games and he insisted that the Grits be given a stiff battling, stiff-hockeying aggression from now on.

It will be highly interesting to see if the Grits are able to set back those Tigers.

In St. John's, Europe-conquering Superiors are speeding westward leaving behind them the east coast and the Rockies. They have their journey at Port Arthur, taking on the famous "Tiger" squad from there. On Monday night they will move a few miles further west to play with the famous "Hornbeam's Famous Thundering Herd." From there they will come right through.

With both these teams with a good and severe test for the Soops, they will doubtless be leg-warmers in the unbroken vain journey from St. John's. It would be no surprise if they lose either to the Superiors or the Tigers.

The Duke is mighty determined about these games and he insisted that the Grits be given a stiff battling, stiff-hockeying aggression from now on.

"It will be something in the way of a real hard-fight all the time to see the team that has been delighting the crown heads of Europe and the Americas in the past two months in action here in their own back yard."

"Before leaving for Europe the management of the Grits have reached an agreement with cities and officials of the Edmonton Section to bring the Grits to the city into the city finals. Therefore upon their arrival home they will go straight to the Grits-Crescents or Imperials for the city championship and right to represent Alberta in the Allan cup play-downs."

"It should accord fans of Fort William and Port Arthur an excellent thrill to see the Grits, the most potential Allan cup challengers in the country, play a game of hockey they played in winning all but two of their games against the two best teams in the country, one of which ended in a tie."

MAROONS END POOR SEASON

Calgary Team Fails to Win This Winter

CALGARY, Feb. 9.—The end of a poor winter for the Maroons came last night for Calgary Maroons, cellar occupants of the Southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League after the team lost its final game here.

Defeated 5-3 here last night by the Douglas-Miners in the last game on Calgary's part of the season, the Maroons, who had won every game except one, finished with a shamed victory in the 16-game regular season.

Maroons' coach, Jim Gillies, and one was a tie with the Calgary Broncs, second half league leaders.

Victory for the Miners last night assured the Drumbeaters can two games in a row, and the Maroons out of three games series with the Broncs, who had the first half of the league and one game remains to go.

Broncs are in the lead with 11 points and Miners are a singleton behind them.

The final league game is slated for Drumbeaters Friday night.

Payment Of $300 On Farm Basis Of Appeal In Court

A down payment of $300 made by an English youth on the purchase of an $11,200 farm at Vegreville is the subject of an argument before the court.

The youth, Horace S. Anthony, came to Canada in July, 1928, to learn farming. On Feb. 24, 1930, he allegedly, under 21 years of age, sold $300 worth of grain to the Central Cooperative Grain Growers of Vegreville to buy a pasture of her 320 acre farm at a price of $35 an acre. Anthony was to pay $200 cash and the balance of $200 in crop payments.

When he called his father for the necessary $1,700 it was not forthcoming, and in due course Mrs. Charter gave Anthony notice that she was entitled to the proceeds.

Through his next friend, Harold Chapman, Mr. Anthony stood before His Honor Judge Lees, and was succeeded in getting his case adjourned.

During his stay in Canada he had been a law unto himself, and was not afraid to stand up to the law.

The birth certificate was not produced at the trial, and the judgment was not appealed.

Under a question as to whether the birth certificate can now be accepted as evidence by the Appeal Court,

Neil Pringle, acting counsel for Anthony, said: "We took no counsel for Mrs. Charter."

Argentina Wheat Sold To Shanghai

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 9.—Two thousand tons of Argentine wheat will be shipped before the end of the month.

The wheat surplus to Shanghai is equivalent to 720,000 bushels.

Lobsters grow only by molting and observations have shown that lobsters molt on getting out of the old shell and then become water-soluble before the end of the month.

The wheat surplus to Shanghai is equivalent to 720,000 bushels.
